DETAILED COMMENTS: PLEASE PRINT or USE FONT SIZE LARGER THAN 10 PT.

Number and type of class(es) taught, other appropriate experiences:

Kevin was in complete control of two grade 12 university level Law classes for the entire practicum.

Academic/content background and knowledge:

Excellent grasp of material, presented to students in challenging and meaningful manner. Researched new cases for clarification of ideas. Created meaningful assignments for the students with appropriate marks and comments.

Organization and preparation:

Always over prepared for each class. Introduced innovative method for student note-taking. Organized class trip to Courthouse, London Museum and Art Gallery and had meaningful follow-up activities for the students. Initiated and organized a guest speaker from the local Native N'Amerind Centre to speak about the Justice System and Canada's Native people.

Communication with students:

Excellent rapport with students. Used a variety of media to deliver content and ideas in a challenging and academic manner. Gave value to student responses while also encouraging higher level thinking. Kevin was able to create a classroom atmosphere that was interesting, challenging, academic and fun.

Classroom management:

Kevin has already developed an effective style in the classroom. His pacing is smooth, his control of the students is excellent and his expectations were clear and fair.

Other professional qualities:

This practicum has been a pleasure, it was more collegial than I have experienced in years. Kevin is an enthusiastic, intelligent young teacher. He has already developed a style that is relevant, innovative and sincere. He will clearly be missed by his students and by the department.

All the best with your new career, Kevin.
